

Emerging products and Services Track

This track consists of talks by leading companies providing products and services to the PV solar industry and consumers. Be amongst a select group of companies announcing your products and services to a dynamic audience consisting of executives in solar PV ecosystem, engineers, managers, and other professionals. Cost of participation is $250 which consists of a 10 minutes talk by your company introducing your products and services. Additionally your company logo will be placed in the program in ISETC website and in the printed program and other promotional items. Participants in the program can have an optional tabletop display/booth for only $200 extra.
